

COX DENOUNCES
HARDING STAND

Plays Republican Plan for Separate Peace, at Ohio Democratic Convention

IS "DISHONORABLE"

Candidate Promises if Elected He Will at Once Get U. S. into League

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 17.—In addressing the Ohio Democratic convention here today, Governor Cox, the party's Presidential candidate, played Senator Harding, the Republican nominee, as "reactionary," denounced what he termed "Mr. Harding's plan for a separate peace with Germany," and said that the Democratic position on league of nations reservations was not "unbending."

"The San Francisco platform," said Governor Cox in his address opening the Ohio campaign and relinquishing party leadership in the state, "gives us the right to enter the league on terms that need no defense."
"Our position is not unbending. We claim that we can accept anything in reservations that interprets, that calls attention to the limitations of our consideration, that calls attention of the other nations that we will go thus far and no farther."

The league issue was featured by Governor Cox and also in addresses by Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, and Senator Alice Pomeroy of Ohio.

"Perfectly perfidious act" and "dishonorable deed" were among terms applied by Governor Cox to the separate peace proposal and the convention gave him ovation after ovation as he proceeded. The separate peace issue, Governor Cox declared, "will remain in the public mind."

Harding Promises "Nothing."
"This, after all," he continued, "is the crux of the situation. The reactionary candidate promises you nothing but a proposal which, at its best, promises nothing but months and months of delay. On the other hand, we promise you this—that after the fourth of March, with the least amount of conversation possible, we will enter the league."

The Democratic candidate denounced particularly the Republican argument that the league would increase probability of war. Denying also that the league could order American soldiers overseas, Governor Cox continued:

"The Republican leaders in declaring that four or five potentates overseas can order our soldiers anywhere, are speaking a deliberate and willful untruth."
At this point, the governor spoke with great deliberation, adding: "Presidential proprieties require that I do not characterize it in stronger terms."

Governor Cox reiterated that congress only may declare war and asserted that "what the reactionary Republican leaders contend would require a constitutional amendment."

Harding Discusses Speaking Schedule.

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 17.—To discuss a speaking schedule for Senator Harding for the next six weeks was the purpose of a conference here today between the Republican nominee and Will H. Hays, the party's national chairman. Senator Harry S.
New, head of the speakers' bureau and others active in the campaign.

Numerous requests that the candidate make speaking trips away from Marion during this period were under advisement, but it was predicted by those in touch with his desires that most of the engagements decided on would be for front porch speeches. The program was to be arranged, however, only so far as October 1, leaving the senator's time for the last five weeks of the campaign to be allotted later.

With Governor Coolidge.

New York, Aug. 17.—State duties will keep Governor Coolidge, Republican vice presidential candidate, close to Boston, and he will not speak in the campaign at present except in the vicinity of Massachusetts. Colonel Thomas W. Miller, director of the eastern division of the speakers' bureau of the Republican national committee, announced today.

Col. Miller will go to Philadelphia today to confer with Senator Bosworth there regarding the latter's participation in the campaign.

REPORTS OF FATAL WRECK ON INTERURBAN LINE ARE DENIED

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Reports of a wreck today on the Chicago, Gary and South Bend interurban line at Porter, near South Bend, Ind., were denied at the company's offices at Michigan City, Ind.

The New York Central operator at Lafayette, seven miles west of South Bend, reported that the interurban car turned over after jumping the track and that 25 passengers were killed under it.

Lafayette wired the dispatcher here that all passengers and most of the residents of the town had gone to the scene, about a mile and a half east of the place.

CIDER MAKERS SUE
"DRY" OFFICIALS

Federal Judge Declines to Dismiss Action Challenging Recent U. S. Decision

New York, Aug. 17.—Federal Justice Augustus N. Hand today declined to dismiss suits which challenged a decision of the commissioner general of internal revenue withholding permits to manufacture preserved sweet cider from two companies because they would not certify to the "permanent alcoholic content" of their product.

The actions sustained by Judge Hand were brought by the Hildebeck Apple Juice company and the Duffy-Mott company against William M. Williams, commissioner of internal revenue, John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner, and Charles R. O'Connor, federal prohibition director of the state of New York. The defendant officials will have 20 days in which to file replies to the suits.

In declining to dismiss the suits, Judge Hand said:
"Although the reason for the decision of the commissioner general in rejecting the applications and refusing the permits does not appear, it would seem to be due to the fact that neither applicant was willing to assure the permanent alcoholic content of his product."

The Hildebeck Apple Juice company would not state that the juice of the apples when first pressed contained less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume. The Duffy-Mott company stated that its preserved sweet cider would contain "when manufactured and prepared for the market," less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol.

Continuing, Judge Hand said:
"The regulations of the department seem to have been complied with in all respects except those in which they seem compliance is impossible. The requirement that an applicant can use only juice from apples that contain a liquid having less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume, that he so preserve and encase and seal the juice that it can never have a higher percentage of alcohol, may or may not after the facts are shown by a valid regulation."

WILLARD URGES RATE INCREASES

Granting More Revenue to Railroads Would Reduce H. C.
L. He Asserts.

Albany, Aug. 17.—Nothing would do as much to bring down the high cost of living as increased rates and revenues to the steam carriers. Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, declared at a hearing today before the public service commission, second district, on the application of steam railroads operating within the state to increase freight and passenger rates.

"It is simply a case of the higher cost of living among the railroads as among individuals," declared Mr. Willard. "Labor has been rewarded, but capital has been working for nothing." But little opposition was expressed at the hearing to the proposed freight increase, although protests were made from several road building concerns, and the State Highway commission opposed the applications as far as they related to road building materials.

The city of New York, through a legal representative, asked that application of both freight and passenger rate increases, affecting residents of the greater city, be deferred until an investigation could be made by city authorities. He said that he was in favor of increased rates where it was shown increased revenues were needed.

Opposition to the increased passenger rates was voiced by L. F. Steckler of New York, representing the National Council of Traveling Sales-men's organizations of the state.

The railroads, in their application, ask that they be permitted to file ratings so that the rates could go into effect on August 26, after five days' notice.

The hearing was completed late today, the commission reserving decision.

RIFLE CUP MATCH OPENED.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Rain was again interfering today with the American rifle matches here, although the Wimbledon cup match was opened on the 1000-yard range with more than 500 entries. The Arizona civilian team won the Port Clinton trophy with a score of 579 out of a possible 600.

The championship regimental team match was won by the first Philadelphia infantry team with 572 out of a possible 600.

These matches were finished late today, the matches here, although yesterday evening under trying weather conditions. Results were not announced until today.

REORGANIZE FEDERAL BUREAU.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Reorganization of the bureau of immigration has been ordered by Assistant Secretary of Labor Post.

The action was taken, officials of the department said today, because of conditions indicating "utter disorganization of the bureau, both here and in its field offices."

IN TENNESSEE

House Adjourns Until This Morning Without Taking Any Action on Suffrage

NO. CAROLINA 'LOST'

Its Senate Agrees to Postpone Action Until Regular Session in 1921

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 17.—The Tennessee house adjourned this afternoon until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning without taking action on ratification of the federal suffrage amendment.

The vote on the motion for adjournment was 53 to 44 and was regarded as a victory for the anti-ratifica-tionists.
Suffrage opponents moved for adjournment until tomorrow on the plea that members should have more time to deliberate. The house fairly seethed with excitement. Efforts to hold the body in session, however, were unavailing and the motion was carried, 53 to 44. Opposition leaders said the vote was a virtually correct indication of sentiment on ratification. The suffragists declared no importance should be attached to it.

Final Vote Wednesday.

A final vote tomorrow was regarded as almost certain. The principal speeches were delivered today and it was said other addresses would be brief.

Debate on the motion that the house concur in the action of the senate in ratifying the amendment centered largely on the contention that this legislature had no right to act on ratification as a clause of the state constitution provides that a legislature, to pass upon a proposed amendment, must have been elected prior to the submission of the amendment by congress. Speakers opposing this view pointed to opinions attributed to W.
L. Frierson, solicitor general of the United States, and Attorney General Thompson of Tennessee, that a decision of the supreme court holding void a clause in the Ohio constitution relating to ratification of federal amendments also nullified the clause in the Tennessee constitution.

In this connection, Speaker Walker, opposition leader, read a letter from Mr. Frierson saying that he had not advised anyone that it would be "entirely proper for the present legislature to act."

Tennessee Suffragists' Final Hope.

Great interest was displayed tonight in the action of the North Carolina senate in deferring consideration of the amendment until the general assembly meets in regular session in 1921.

It was conceded by many suffragists that whether women of the nation would vote in November depended upon Tennessee. Favorable action by Florida was said to be out of the question and all efforts to persuade the governors of Vermont and Connecticut to call the legislatures of those states in special sessions have met with failure.

Thirty-five states have ratified the amendment, eight have rejected it, and if North Carolina postpones action until next year, Tennessee is virtually the last hope of the suffragists.

North Carolina Senate Votes to Postpone Action on Suffrage

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—North Carolina was eliminated, at least temporarily, today from the fight for ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment in time for the women to vote in November.

By a margin of 25 to 23, the state senate voted to postpone action on the amendment until the next regular session of the legislature in 1921.

The blow came as a complete surprise to suffrage proponents. They had no advance word of the opposition plan of action, and the postponement resolution went through before they could move to block its adoption.

Suffrage leaders, however, said an attempt to reconsider the postponement resolution might be made tomorrow.
In the meantime, anti-suffrage forces prepared to take quick advantage of their victory. They plan to bring the ratification matter up under special order in the lower house tomorrow and dispose of it quickly.

"Call it up and kill it right," was the war Representative Neal, and the suffrage floor leader, described the plan.

The end of the contest came suddenly in the senate, at a time when suffrage supporters were confident of victory in the upper chamber. At the conclusion of a day of heated debate, Senator Scales, suffrage leader, announced he was ready for a vote.
The spokesman of the opposition forces, Senator Warren, then introduced the resolution which doomed the plans of ratification. The roll call which followed closed the case.

Suffrage leaders attributed their defeat to senators who were unable to determine the course which their constituents would have them take. There were half a dozen votes which neither side had been able to commit unreservedly. Their opportunity came to British Labor Leaders Ordered to Leave France

Paris, Aug. 17.—William Adamson, labor leader of the British parliament, and Harry Gosling, leader of the English transport workers, representing the British council of action of the triple alliance of labor, have been requested to leave France, failing which they will be expelled. Adamson and Gosling arrived here this morning and conferred with French socialists.

THIRD DAY'S HONORS
WIDELY DISTRIBUTED

For First Time, U. S. Fails to Win
One of Six Points Scoring Places in Olympiad

(By The Associated Press) Olympic Stadium, Antwerp, Aug. 17.— Progress of athletic advancement throughout the world was demonstrated today by the wide distribution of honors in the third day's contests in the seventh Olympiad.

For the first time in these games, the American athletes failed to win one of the six points scoring places, when all four who qualified for the 5,000 meter race failed to finish. In all the other finals and qualifying rounds today, however, the Americans were placed, in several cases after sensational performances against the strongest foreign competition.

R. W. Landgren, of the New York A.
C., won the high jump with a new Olympic record of 1.92½ meters, although he had made 1.94 meters until a sag of the bar was re-measured. Three other Americans were placed in this event.

In the elimination for finalists in the shot-put and broad jump, two Americans qualified in each event, although legitimate hard luck interfered with their performances in the latter event. The shot-putters misunderstanding the French officials, put the shot a long time before discovering it was just a warm-up and later some of them did not do so well as in the practice. In the broad jump, Sol Butler, negro, of Dubuque college, the American record holder, pulled a tendon in his second jump and was unable to qualify.

Three Americans also qualified for the finals in the 11½ meters hurdles, in which one of them is expected to run second, as Earl Thompson, representing Canada, is acknowledged the best in the field, unless one of the Americans rises to unexpected heights and noses out the Canadian star.

The most sensational and pleasing performance of the day was that of the half mile in the 500 meters final which Earl Eby, of the Chicago A. A., almost won and in which Lieutenant D. M. Scott, U. S. Army, and A. B.
Sprott, of the Los Angeles A. C., finished fifth and six after a terrific race.
A. G. Hill of England won by a yard, due partly to the fact that Eby was watching the expected winner of the race, B. G. D. Rudd of South Africa, who faltered at the tape while Hill slipped through unobserved.

The Americans admitted Rudd was not quite in his best form, although he was game to the finish, collapsing, as did Thomas Campbell of Yale university, and furnishing a most sensational climax. The latter's condition was serious for a few minutes, due to muscle and heart spasms, but he was all right later when he arrived at the school where the Americans are quartered.

The American tug-of-war team was quickly outpulled by its English opponents, but it has chance of reentering in case England wins under the rule which permits all teams defeated by the winner to compete for second place.

REJECTED SUITOR KILLS GIRL

Lyndhurst, N. J., Aug. 17.—Jumping from a second story window to escape a rejected suitor, Mary Vellotto, 19 year old Italian girl, today fell on a picket fence and while crawling away to hide, was shot and killed by him.

The suitor, according to the police, is Pasquale Melone, of Syracuse, N. Y., a traveling salesman. A posse was organized to track down the girl's assailant who is believed to be hiding in a swamp bordering the Passaic river.
Efforts to locate Melone in the swamp to which he was believed to have fled were unavailing and this afternoon belief was expressed that he had escaped.

traordinary grand jury which is investigating alleged gambling in this city, resumed its sessions today after a recess over the week-end.
Evidence secured during four raids in this city early Sunday morning was presented today by Wyman S. Bascom, who is representing the attorney

PITCHED BALL
KILLS PLAYER

Ray Chapman, Shortstop of Cleveland Team, Dies of Fractured Skull

PURELY ACCIDENTAL

No Blame Attached to Carl Mays, Who Threw Ball, District Attorney Says

New York, Aug. 17.—New York baseball fans paid final tribute tonight to Ray Chapman, shortstop of the Cleveland American team, whose death resulted early today from the blow he received on the head from a pitched ball in the game between New York and Cleveland yesterday. Chapman's body was placed aboard the Lake Shore limited, which left the Grand Central station at 6:30 o'clock tonight, and is expected to arrive in Cleveland tomorrow morning at 8:20 o'clock.

During the day, while the player's body lay at the undertaker's rooms, hundreds of baseball fans called there to view it and tonight a large crowd gathered at the Grand Central.
The assemblage acted as an escort as the coffin was placed on a truck car that carried it through the station to the train. The fans formed an aisle near the gate and stood with bared heads as the car bearing the body of the dead player passed through.

Carl Mays Breaks Down.

While the death of Chapman has caused sorrow among baseball magnates, players and fans, none seemed as deeply grieved over the accident as Carl Mays, the New York pitcher, who delivered the ball in yesterday's game that resulted in Chapman's death. After the game yesterday, Mays went to his room and denied himself to all, even his intimate friends and teammates on the New York club. He paced the floor of his room during the night and when word came to him tonight that Chapman had died the pitcher broke down completely and said he desired to give himself up to the district attorney as soon as possible.

On his visit to the district attorney's office, Mays was accompanied by Charles McManus, business manager of the Yankees and Manager Tris Speaker and Secretary Walter Mc-Nichols, of the Cleveland club. Mays made his statement to Assistant District Attorney John F. Joyce. The pitcher, eyes filled with tears and barely able to tell the story, said:

"It was a straight, fast ball and not a curved one. When Chapman came to bat, I got the signal for a straight fast ball, which I delivered. It was a little too close and I saw Chapman duck his head in an effort to get out of the path of the ball. He was too late, however, and a second later he fell to the ground. It was the most regrettable incident of my career and I would give anything if I could undo what has happened."

After hearing Mays' story, Mr. Joyce said he thought Chapman's death was purely accidental.

Unavoidable, Says Tris Speaker.

Manager Speaker, of the Cleveland club, talking with Colonel T. L. Huston, one of the owners of the Yankees, said the accident was unavoidable.
"I do not hold Mays responsible in any way," he added. "I have been active in discouraging my players from holding Mays responsible and in respect to Chapman's memory, as well as for the good of baseball, I hope all talk of this kind will stop. I can realize that Mays feels this thing as deeply as any man could, and I do not want to add anything to his burden."

Grief for the popular shortstop cut deep into the hearts of his admirers here as soon as it became known that an operation had failed to save his life. The thought that the diamond tragedy would spoil the chances of both the Cleveland and New York clubs for the American league pennant was general among baseball fans.

At her hotel uptown, Mrs. Chapman, who entered an unrequited love with death, arriving from Cleveland several hours after her husband breathed his last, refused to receive the proffered consolation of her husband's friends and teammates. Except for Manager Speaker, she would see no one, spending the day in her room.

Earlier in the day, she announced her intention of going to the undertaker's parlors, but later, when it was learned that the body could be moved to Cleveland on an early evening train, she changed her mind and declared she would wait until her arrival at home.

Chapman's Skull Fractured.

The post-mortem examination of the body brought no new information.
According to the autopsy surgeon, Chapman died from a blow in the left temporal region which fractured the skull, depressing a portion of bone, which caused an inter-cranial hemorrhage.

Colonel Huston, of the Yankees, said he was deeply touched by Chapman's death, though he refused to make any statement on behalf of the club.

"I am terribly sorry that Chapman was killed," Mr. Huston said. "I'm sorry such an accident had to happen in our park or that any of our team had any connection with it. It is unfortunate that it should have been Mays who pitched the ball too, because of the tremendous publicity he has already had. I can't say any more than that."

Colonel Huston admitted that there would be bitterness on the part of the players as the result of Chapman's death, but said he had assurances from Tris Speaker that he would do all possible to prevent an attitude of antagonism becoming general among Chapman's old teammates.

Thousands of fans, most of whom did not know that Chapman had succumbed to his injury, gathered at the Polo Grounds early today to see the scheduled game. They were dispersed when told by league officials and a force of detectives that the shortstop had died and that the game had been called off. Hundreds went to the mortuary, hoping to see the popular player's body.

Death Is Unusual.

Baseball experts here declared today that cases of batters being killed by pitched balls in professional games were very rare. In the memory of the oldest followers of the sport not more than two or three have met their death in this way. The most recent of these was the death of John Dodge, of the Southern association, who was killed about three years ago.

The most recent case of serious injury happened last spring, when Jeff Pfeiffer of Brooklyn hit Chick Few-ster of New York on the head. Few-ster was out of the game for several weeks and Pfeiffer's game was so affected by the accident that he was not used for nearly a month.

Players to Consult Manager.

Boston, Aug. 17.—A decision to consult Manager Speaker, of the Cleveland Americans, before taking any action toward asking the New York ball team, be barred from further participation in organized baseball, was reached by members of the Boston and Detroit teams, after a meeting today. Several of the players expressed the opinion that some move of this kind should be made as a result of the death of Ray Chapman of Cleveland.

Shortstop Bush, of the Detroit team, announced that he was prepared to volunteer his services to the Cleveland club for the rest of the season if sanction of the league officials could be obtained. Sentiment among his fellow players indicated that no opposition to such an agreement was probable from members of his own club.

Suggest That Players "Strike."

Washington, Aug. 17.—A suggestion that players of the American league baseball clubs "strike" against any further participation by Pitcher Carl Mays, of the New York Americans, in league contests, was made today by St. Louis players, who joined members of the Washington team in an informal meeting to discuss the death of Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop.

Washington players took no action pending a decision by the league authorities as to their course. St. Louis players were said to have favored a general appeal to all others in the league to refuse to play in any game where Mays was included.

Another Baseball Fatality.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 17.—Earl Jager, amateur ball player of Plain-well, Mich., died in a hospital here today of injuries received in a game Sunday. He was hit on the head by a thrown ball.

GIANTS WIN AT STAMFORD.

In Thrilling 14-Inning Battle, Colored Team Carries Off 5 to 4 Victory—Second Game This Morning; Another at Oneonta This Afternoon.

In a spectacular game at Stamford yesterday afternoon before a large crowd of summer colonists and townsfolk, the Brooklyn Royal Giants defeated the fast Stamford aggregation in the 14th inning, 5 to 4. Shortstop Lloyd's homer brought in the winning run for the colored team after a long and exciting game that kept everybody on their toes. So delighted were the fans with the game and the good fight that the two gangs will cross bats again this morning. The Giants will come to Oneonta this afternoon to battle the Cubs.

After the opening innings, the game virtually resolved itself into a battle between the opposing pitchers. Bauswein was on the mound for the mountaineers for the first time and he twirled a wonderful game. Robins was the colored hurler.

The way things looked in the first two innings, Stamford was in for an easy time, for by bunting hits and taking advantage of errors by the Brooklynites, they piled up a four-run lead. Stamford fans were about ready to say goodnight to the visitors but changed their tune in the seventh inning, when with one run in the fourth already to their credit, the Giants bunched hits to advantage and brought in two runs, which with another in the next round tied the score, 4 to 4.

Excitement was running at high ebb along about this time and when the ninth inning passed with no break in the tie, the fans were yelling their heads off for the home team.

The suspense continued, however, until the 14th round, when Lloyd, the fast Giant shortstop, selected one of Bauswein's offings and pounded it out for a home run, no men being on bases at the time.

The Delaware county boys tried hard in their half of the 14th to tie the score again, but were unsuccessful, the Brooklynites succeeding in holding them. It was a game among games and the crowd certainly got all it went after, the contest throughout being featured by brilliant playing.

The Giants remained in Stamford overnight and will play the Stamford boys again this morning at 10:30 o'clock. They come to this city this afternoon to meet the Cubs.

The score by innings of yesterday's game follows.

R H E Brooklyn Giants 0001002100000—5 11 4 Stamford 1300000000000—4 8 0 Batteries — Robins and Fuller; Bauswein and Boote.

MOOSE TEAM FAILS TO ARRIVE.

Game Yesterday With Cortland Necessarily Cancelled—Giants Here Today.

For once, the weather did not interfere with the scheduled ball game at Neahwa park yesterday afternoon, but it is not one thing it's another, and as a result the battle between Weidman's Cubs and the Cortland Moose was canceled, owing to the inability of the visiting team to reach here in time for the battle.

The Moose started from Cortland only early enough to reach Oneonta in time for the game provided the trip went smoothly. When near Harpersville, however, the motor bus in which they were riding broke down and the manager of the team phoned Weidman, of the Cubs, that they would be unable to get another conveyance to reach Oneonta in time for the game.

"Duffer" hence was reluctantly compelled to call off the game, much to the disappointment of a number of fans who had gathered at the diamond to see the Cubs battle the boys that defeated them, 8 to 2, ten days previous.

Weidman hopes to arrange another game here in the near future between the two aggregations. Oneonta fans hope nothing will prevent the game at Neahwa park this afternoon, when the Brooklyn Royal Giants will be the Cubs' opponents. The Giants were in Stamford for a game yesterday and will return in time for today's game at 4:15. The colored lads are reputed to be some players and Oneonta fans and fanettes will be out in full force this afternoon to see the scuffle.

RAILS THE ONLY STEADY ISSUES

Dealings on Exchange, Much in Excess of Previous Day, Are Again Largely Professional

New York, Aug. 17.—The same factors and considerations which have favored the short account in the stock market for the last fortnight were operative again today, prices reacting quite sharply after an earlier display of moderate strength.

Despite an increasing belief that the market had been almost thoroughly liquidated, bears experienced little difficulty in effecting additional impairment of quoted values, especially in the various speculative groups.

Dealings were much in excess of the previous day, but again largely professional. Any inclination on the part of the public to participate was effectively checked by the more ominous effects of the foreign situation and increased credit contraction.

Rails were the only issues to manifest a semblance of steadiness, but even in that important quarter most of the advantage was forfeited in the extended reversals which attended the later trading.

Extreme losses of two to seven points marked the steady offerings of shippings, oils, metals, equipments, and related specialties. Atlantic Gulf, Mexican Petroleum, Crucible steel, and Studebaker represented the weaker issues. A feeble rally towards the close was of brief duration, renewed selling following an advance in call loans from seven to eight per cent and rumors that the administration was considering the issuance of another statement dealing with the Russo-Polish situation.

The market for foreign exchange was comparatively inactive, but most of the leading remittances, sterling excepted, moved against their home centers, including the rate to Scandinavian points.

Heavy selling of Liberty fourth 4½s at a substantial reduction, and a two-point decline in Dominion of Canada 5s of 1931, featured the more active and irregular bond market. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

OUT OF THE STORM

Adapted from the Famous Novel THE TOWER OF IVORY

GERTRUDE AHERTON

Directed by William Parke

The shadow of her sordid past swooped upon her in her moment of wonderful happiness.

Should she marry the man she loved—and ruin his career?

Or should she give him up—

And ruin her own life?

Cast and Direction

You will long remember "Out of the Storm" for its stirring story and for the inspired way in which Director William Parke has produced the most dramatic episodes. The role of Margaret Hill is beautifully played by Barbara Castleton. John Bowers is her male lead, and other well-known members of the cast are Sidney Ainsworth, Doris Pawn, Lavson Butt, Elinor Hancock, Edyth Chapman, Carrie Clarke Warde, Lincoln Stedman and Clarissa Selwynne.

The Shipwreck. The terrifying storm, the tons and tons of pounding water, the shattered decks and cabins, the agony and panic of the passengers, the final plunge of the huge ship under the sea, the man and woman clinging to a spar on the crest of wind-whipped waves—these are the thrilling moments in the most realistic shipwreck ever shot for the screen.

The Jail Delivery. This is in our opinion quite the most exciting depiction of a jail break that has ever been filmed. The scenes were taken in a real penitentiary, and the details are absolutely realistic. Al Levering, serving a long term for embezzlement, puts into action an amazingly clever plan for escape. By a remarkable manipulation of the lock, he opens the door of his cell, strikes down the guard and frees all the convicts in his tier. The ensuing scenes were taken at breathless speed.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells. Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—"Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine I have ever taken for the nerves and a run-down system. I took the 'Prescription' and found it very beneficial in building up my nerves and my whole system. My general health was so much better after taking it that I can recommend it as an excellent woman's tonic." — MRS. MINNIE ASHMAN, 5 Elm St.

Mrs. Christian Goetz and little daughter, Inez, of Albany are guests of Mrs. J. N. Mead for a few days.

Are You Sinking Into the Rut of Ill-Health Because Your Blood Is Starving For Iron?

Physician Explains Why Modern Methods of Living Sap the Iron From The Blood and Why So Many Men and Women Are Benefited By The Strength-Giving, Up-Building Effect of Organic Iron like

NUXATED IRON

Many a man or woman is wearily trudging along the road of life steadily becoming more weakened and run-down simply because their blood is getting thin, pale and watery—starving for a want of strength-giving iron. At any moment they run the risk of sinking into the Rut of Ill-Health, and by not building up their physical condition in time they often sentence themselves to a lifetime of misery and regrets.

"Without from there can be no strong, sturdy man or healthy, beaming woman," says Dr. Frederick King, New York Physician and Medical Author, in comment on how the strain of modern methods of living sap the iron from the blood and break down the health and strength. "Without iron you have a weakness in a place of real power. The men who reach the top in business are those who do not neglect their physical or mental development. The women who come to the front in community, social, or domestic life, and the ones who are most successful in the home are those who realize the value of iron."

Can you look around you and see any number of such people and you can't get every one of them to take Nuxated Iron? And blood—the kind that makes a man a man and a woman a woman. Yet, there are thousands of people who

"AN AMERICAN CREED."

More than passing notice should be given the announcement made from Vicksburg, Miss., that Charles W.
Miller, city editor of the Herald of that city has compiled "An American Creed." In an announcement its author says:

"In this age of Godless selfishness the tendency of the times is running steadily and rapidly into a state of unrestricted license, regardless of a high standard of life. Something is needed to assist in turning the attention of old and young to their duty to their God and their neighbors. The Holy Bible will give the correct answer to every conceivable question that can be framed by man. It is the rule and guide for humanity."

Mr. Miller's creed consists of passages from both the old and the new testaments, seven from the old and 21 from the new; transposed and arranged in such a manner as to preserve the continuity of the creed unbroken to the end and are said to embrace the wholesome truths handed down from the prophets, the Savior and the apostles.

There are some 300 words in the creed. It begins with the words of Timothy: "Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain that we can carry nothing out."

The second paragraph is introduced by a passage from Malachi: "Have we not all one Father? Hath not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother by profaning the covenant of our Father?" The creed closes with these words from Timothy: "Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory forever and ever."

One newspaper refers to the pronouncement as "The New American Creed." What a grievous error! The fundamentals were the guide and inspiration of those who first settled America and beyond doubt have been of the countless thousands who have made our country what it is today.
Men who have lived to be of service to humanity and to advance the common good have without exception been actuated by the motives it inspires and if the country is not to proceed on the mad run to disaster, similar to that which has overtaken other prosperous countries in the past, our people will have to get back to the faith of the fathers.

In these days when people seem inclined to think of nothing serious in the mad rush for pleasure and dissi-pation, it is refreshing to find a writer of a secular journal emphasizing these old but sublime truths. The creed, as the commissioner of education of Mississippi well says, should be placed in the hands of every child in the state and the nation as well.

THE GOLD STAR HOMES.

An official of the American Legion asks ex-service men not to forget the parents and relatives of America's heroes in the homes of the gold stars.

The heroes of the war cannot be recalled. Their places in the home and family will never be filled. But the friends — the ex-service men — can make the burdens lighter, clear away shadows and comfort and aid fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters or wives of the departed.

It is, after all, the little things in life that are appreciated. Material things can be acquired through individual effort, but we cannot accept the friendship of others unless it is voluntarily extended. It is our solemn duty to remember the men who died for America and America's cause. Yes, the soldiers will remember those who live in the gold star homes. Others as well ought to extend that spirit of human recognition.

INCOME FROM IDLE LANDS.

Forestry Exhibit at Cooperstown Fair Will Be Interesting.

How Otsego county can secure an income from its now idle forest lands will be illustrated at the Otsego county fair August 21 to September 3, by a special exhibit from the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse.
Plans have been completed for the exhibit, which will be of a back-to-nature type, the most striking feature being a forest camp with a technical forester in charge, garbed in forester costume, ready to explain the exhibit and arrange to give special assistance to those in this county who are interested in the forest problem.

The state college of forestry believes that every acre of soil should be productive, land fitted for food production going into food crops and that not fitted for such use being utilized to grow trees, from which an income can be secured in the years to come.
How this can be done will be one of the notable features of the exhibit.
There are big tracts in practically every county in the state which should be producing a forest growth, and paying their share of the state's income from its soil.

Beautification of school grounds, proper marketing of the products of the forests and the right utilization of forest for recreation will all be shown

MAYOR FINDS ALBANY MARKET A SUCCESS AND WELL PATRONIZED.

Annual School Tax Levy Made — City Clerk Will Extend Roll and Turn It Over to Chamberlain for Collection — Grand Street Sewer Discussed.

Mayor Ceperley, at the meeting of the Common Council held last evening, at which Aldermen Clark, Lauren, Morris and Tamslett were present, spoke quite enthusiastically of the project of a city market place, stating that on the occasion of a recent visit to Albany, he viewed the public market gardens and farmers commenced to arrive with loads of produce and other merchandise soon after midnight, and that by morning there was quite an array of edibles of all kinds and other goods which householders buy. He expressed surprise at the number of live chickens, ducks, geese, etc., which were sold to the women shoppers who predominate. The merchants of the city often visit the market early in the day, selecting and paying for such foodstuffs as they desire. If at 1 o'clock any of the producers have articles unsold, they either carry them back home or peddle them about the city.
No license is charged and the first cornerers have the choice of stands, backing up to certain lines marked.
The committee appointed on the subject announced that it was not prepared to make a report at the meeting on the project.

A communication from the gas company was received stating that the schedule recently filed provided for a minimum charge of 55 cents a month with the price $2.25 after Sept. 1. It also announced a discount of five per cent if the bill is paid before the tenth of the following month. No action was taken on the communication, it being assumed, in view of recent rulings by the public service commission, that no change could be effected.

John Malady appeared before the council and protested at the condition of the sewer on Grand street between Fair and Prospect streets, saying that it is not caring for the surface water.
He also complained of the obstruction that one property owner has erected, which he asserted throws the water across the street and upon the property of others. Mayor Ceperley stated that it was a matter for the board of public works, but expressed a conviction that the sewer would have to be made larger before permanent relief would be secured. He promised to investigate the conditions there and endeavor to see if something could not be done.

A resolution was passed instructing the city clerk to prepare and turn over to the city chamberlain a tax roll for the school tax of the city for the coming year based on the estimate of the library board that $5,700 would be required to meet its expenses and of the board of education that it would require $30,432.70, making a total of $36,132.70 to be collected. The rate has not been extended. The city clerk will proceed to prepare the roll and then it will be placed in the hands of the chamberlain for collection.

Alderman Tamslett reported that the owner of the River street bus had given assurance that the morning trip of that conveyance would be made regularly and that he had heard of no further complaints relative to irregular service.

Alderman Clark stated that the light recently ordered moved on Railroad avenue should be placed at the corner of that street and Delaware avenue. It will doubtless be changed at an early date.

Mayor Ceperley stated to the board that he has requested the board of public works to take action looking to the early acceptance of Wall street, suggesting that quite possibly some arrangement could be made to provide for the straightening of the street in part at least. He expressed a conviction that the street should be accepted to relieve in part at least the congestion on Main street.

ESSEX BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Transcontinental Run Made in 4 Days, 14 Hours and 41 Minutes.

A few days ago an Essex Good yearequipped car reached New York from San Francisco in four days, 14 hours and 41 minutes—bettering by 12 hours and 45 minutes the former record set by Ralph Mulford, famous race driver, in a Hudson.

A new west-bound record was hung up by the second Essex, which arrived in San Francisco in four days, 12 hours and 17 minutes after covering 3347 miles of all kinds of roads lying between the Pacific coast city and New York.

Both record-breaking cars were driven exclusively by men within the Hudson and Essex distributor organization instead of by some single famous race driver as has been the custom.

Car No. 1 left San Francisco at 12:01
a. m. and arrived in New York at 5:44 p. m. four days later. All kinds of weather conditions were encountered, but despite this, a new record was established by sensational driving. Car No. 2 left New York simultaneously and made almost as fast time.

Drivers report that car and the performance were exceptional, positive traction being afforded on all sorts of road, over mountains, plains and desert.

Transcontinental marks have been broken three times in the last three months and experts are wondering how much lower it can be made. Both Essex cars carried mail with the idea of comparing time with that of the proposed transcontinental aerial mail.
Is the coast-to-coast motor mail service a thing of the near future?

NO CONTESTS IN COUNTY.

Morris Ackley Decides Not to Enter Republican Primaries for Sheriff.

At a late hour yesterday, Clerk W.
O. Hiltnermaster of the board of election commissioners of the county stated that the designating petitions of the candidates for the various county offices to be filed at the November election named by the county commissioners of the Republican and Democratic parties had been filed and that none other had been received and that every indication was that these candidates would have no opposition at primaries September 14.

There had been persistent rumors that Morris Ackley of this city would enter the primaries contesting with Fred S. Williams of Laurens for the Republican nomination for sheriff.
For several days this had been denied only to be repeated again. It appears that he decided not to make the fight and the contest will now be between the men designated by the respective county organization and at the November election.

The list of candidates so named follows:

Member of Assembly—Dr. Julian C.
Smith, Oneonta, Republican; Herbert B. Leary of Richfield Springs, Democrat.

Sheriff—Fred S. Williams of Laurens, Republican; Wilson S. Winney of Oneonta, Democrat.

County Clerk—William I. Smith of New Lisbon, Republican; Walter D.
Fox, Oneonta, Democrat.

County Treasurer—Burton G. Johnson of Cooperstown, Republican; Jasper D. Fitch of Burlington, Democrat.

District Attorney—Adrian A. Pierson of Cooperstown, Republican; Jerome S. Seacord of Unadilla, Democrat.

Coroner—William R. Lough of Edmeston, Republican; W. R. Seebor of Milford, Democrat.

ALL ABOARD FOR SARATOGA.

Reunion of 27th Division Takes Place September 12, 13 and 14.

A large number of former members of the 27th (New York National guard) division are planning to attend their next reunion, which takes place at Saratoga Springs on September 12, 13 and 14.

Among the matters of interest to former service men which will be taken up at the reunion are organization of a permanent 27th Division association, determination of policy regarding future reunions, address by General John F. O'Ryan on condition of our cemeteries overseas, determination of policy regarding cemeteries, and determination of policy regarding memorial monument.

Other features include addresses by several prominent citizens of New York state, a parade of the division, at which time it is expected the men will appear in the uniforms they they cast off over a year ago; an athletic carnival, an evening street carnival with dancing, and special entertainments and possibly a "show" by members of the former 27th division theatrical troupe.

As this is the first reunion of the boys of the 27th since they stopped their Hindenburg line smashing two years ago, it will undoubtedly be a great time for all of them. There is a comparatively large number of 27th men in the Oneonta post of the American legion and plans are under way to have all from Oneonta and vicinity attend in a body. Details of the trip have not yet been worked out but will be announced at a later date. Every "buddy" ought to get into line on the reunion for if he doesn't have a good time at Saratoga with the rest of the "bunch" he never will.

Small Reunion.

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Smallin family was held Saturday, August 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wetts of Portlandville.
A large gathering of friends and neighbors was present. Dinner was served, which was heartily enjoyed by all, after which officers were elected for the coming year. Arthur Sul-well of Elk Creek was elected president, Alfred Smallin of Portlandville, vice president, and Fred Cook of Cooperstown, secretary. The next reunion will be held the second Saturday in August, 1921, at the home of S. B. Sulwell of Elk Creek.

WANTED IN GLENS FALLS.

Chief Horton Informed Man Answering Description of Lanno Sought.

Chief Horton has been informed by the Syracuse office of the Pinkerton agency that they have no record of any crime being committed by George Lanno, the man taken into custody suspected of being Bergdoll, the rich draft evader.

The information is given however that one Ernest Longdo, a description of whom tallies quite accurately with that of Lanno, is wanted in Glens Falls on the charge of raising checks and passing forged checks and that the man recently committed to the county jail may prove to be the man wanted in that city.

Chief Horton has communicated with the chief of police at Glens Falls, sending him a description of Lanno with photographs taken of the man here and asking if he is wanted in that city.

Local officials are still confident that the fellow taken into custody by the state troopers is endeavoring to escape from punishment for some offense and hope that ere his 60 days have elapsed, during which time he will remain at the county jail, that some intelligence will be received.

BAINBRIDGE BAND COMING.

To Give Concert in This City Saturday Evening Next.

The celebrated Bainbridge band, of which Fred Hamlin is the leader, is to visit this city on Saturday evening, August 21, and will give a concert at the corner of Main street and Ford avenue. The concert is announced as given complimentary to The Daily Star, but is for the enjoyment of all citizens of the city and vicinity.

The band, which has established an enviable reputation in this section, in order to promote good feeling among vicinity towns, has recently visited Sidney and Windsor and rendered very enjoyable concerts, which have been much appreciated in those villages and the friendly spirit which prompts the visit to Oneonta will be beyond doubt result in a large attendance at the concert on Saturday evening.

The program of the concert will be given in a later issue of The Star, and if those rendered at other places may be taken as indicative, then the concert will be one well worth hearing.

With the band is a baritone soloist, Frank B. Payne, whose reputation is widespread and whose solo numbers are in demand wherever the band goes. It is hoped that the program will embrace at least one number by Mr. Payne, as there are not a few residents of the city who are familiar with his talents.

TROLLEY AWARD ANNOUNCED

MEN IN PASSENGER SERVICE GET 45 CENTS AN HOUR AFTER SECOND YEAR.

They Asked for 50 Cents After First Year—Company Says Means Increased Expense of $25,000 Annually—Will Ask for Increase in Rates of About 25 Per Cent—Decision Rested with Attorney Merritt Bridges of Morris.

Briefly summarized the award of the arbitrators in the dispute between the officials of the Southern New York railway and its employees, announced late last evening at Cooperstown after a two days' session, is as follows: The wages to be paid motormen and conductors engaged in the passenger service shall be as follows:

First six months 38 cents per hour. Second six months 40 cents per hour. Second year 42 cents per hour. After second year 45 cents per hour.

Men engaged on freight, work and milk trains and the snow plow shall receive 2 cents an hour additional. Operators of one men cars shall receive 5 cents per hour additional.

Other members of the association are to be paid as follows: Shop employees shall receive an advance of 15 per cent.

Linemen shall receive 50 cents an hour, (increased from 45 cents). Power house employees an increase of 10 per cent.

Groundmen shall receive 37 cents an hour, (increased from 32 cents). Substation employees an increase of 10 per cent.

The increased pay for the men engaged in the transportation service is about 21 per cent. They asked for from 45 to 50 cents an hour, the latter after one year of service.

The increased pay is made effective from June 1. The company will commence paying at the increased rate after August 15th, and it is given until September 5 to make the back payments.

The award also provides:

All regular runs shall be on a basis of 10 hours and men so engaged shall be paid for not less than 10 hours.

All regular or extra work done in excess of 10 hours shall be paid for at the rate of time and one-half except that a leeway of one hour shall be allowed to complete schedule runs. No more swing runs than is necessary shall appear on any schedule. Extra men who are required to report and do not receive work shall be paid for five hours, but if he receives work he shall be paid from the time he reports until the run starts.

Shopmen and linemen shall work ten hour and all work in excess of 10 hours shall be paid for at the rate of time and a half. No Sunday work shall be done by linemen except emergency repair work.

The hours of power house men shall be left as at present, except that arrangements shall be made for shift days so that no man shall be required to work 24 straight hours.

No cars shall be operated on the main line without a motorman and a conductor, except the line car.

Freight work, milk trains and the snow plow shall have at least one additional man, except on the Ulster freight, which shall have two additional men on the north end of the run.

In case of any disagreement as to the interpretation of any provision of this award the board of arbitrators shall be called together to decide the dispute and the decision of a majority shall be controlling on both parties.

Will Ask Increased Rates.

None of the officers of the Amalgamated association could be reached last night after the award was announced. General Manager Graves of the company will proceed at once to make arrangements to pay the wages awarded. He expects today to confer with the public service commission at Albany. It is expected that the company will ask for an increase in passenger fares from four to five cents a mile and doubtless a similar increase in freight rates, or an increase of about 25 per cent. The increase will amount to about $25,000 annually.

Award a Compromise.

The decision rested with Attorney Merritt Bridges of Morris, the third arbitrator, as the men selected by the company and the employees were their representatives during the entire controversy. The decision is virtually a compromise between what the men asked and what the company offered, although the increase for the first six months period is not proportionate.

The Home Service office will be open every afternoon, except Sunday, from 1 o'clock to 5:30.

QUARANTINE DECLARED BY HEALTH DEPARTMENT GOES INTO EFFECT TODAY.

Has Is Put Into Effect as Precautionary Measure, Health Officer Having Received Several Reports of Dogs Attempting to Attack Children—All Dogs on Streets Must Be Muzzled or They Will Be Seized.

Muzzles, which were quite the thing among the canine species a year or so ago, will go into vogue again this morning, when a quarantine declared by the city health department through Health Officer George W. Augustin goes into effect. The decision to put the ban into effect was announced last night by Dr. Augustin, who said he had received several reports about the city of dogs snapping at children. The climax came yesterday afternoon, when a man was badly bitten by a supposedly mad dog.

The quarantine restrictions prohibit dog owners from allowing their dogs on the streets without muzzles. The pets may be kept at home without interference, but if they are seen on the street without the necessary appendage to their features, will be picked up by the authorities.

Dr. Augustin said last night that the action of the board was taken more as a preventative measure than for any present need, although the situation is admittedly one that warrants drastic action. No serious cases of dog bite have been called to the health officer's attention since the death ten days ago of four-year-old George Grandall, who succumbed to rabies after being attacked by a bull dog.

At that time, rumors were current about the city that a quarantine was to be established, but conditions did not seem to warrant. Dr. Augustin feels now, however, that it is the best interest of public safety that all dogs be kept restrained.

The city police department has been designated as the authority to see that the law is enforced and any dogs found wandering the streets without muzzles will be seized by the members of the force and impounded.

Later last night, no information had been gleaned as to yesterday afternoon's victim of dog bite. Both the health department and police received reports that a man had been badly bitten on the street, but they were unable to trace it down and ascertain who the man was. Up to a late hour, no report had been made to Dr. Augustin, such as would have been the case had the man been attended by a physician. It is possible, of course, that home treatment was resorted to and the man did not consult a physician.

This is Oneonta's second experience with a dog quarantine, a ban having been declared about a year ago, when there was a mad dog scare. Undoubtedly, most dog owners still have the muzzles that were in vogue at that time and hence they will not be greatly inconvenienced. The cooperation of owners is asked to the end that the letter and spirit of the regulation will be carried out. It is a time when prevention is the only course to pursue and the city authorities are doing their best to forestall any possibility of an epidemic of rabies.

As many persons as could be conveniently seated were in attendance last evening at the first regular moving picture show to be given by the local Y. M. C. A. Four splendid reels of interesting as well as educational pictures were shown and all were delighted with the work of the new machine and by the competent management of Secretary A. C. Lance. The same reels will be shown Friday evening of this week for the benefit of those who were not present last night, and throughout the fall this arrangement will be followed as closely as possible.

BIG COMMUNITY PICNIC

EVERYBODY INVITED TO ATTEND GATHERING AT CLIFFSIDE ON SATURDAY.

Hon. Charles S. Wilson, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Hon. Adon P. Brown, Chairman of Agriculture Committee of State Senate, to Speak.

Much can be said in favor of the community picnic in these days of turmoil when none are certain of what the future has in store, and all are urged to attend the one announced for Cliffside on Goodyear lake on Saturday next.

Extensive preparations are being made by the committee and an enjoyable event seems assured. The speakers announced are Hon. Charles S. Wilson, state commissioner of agriculture, and Hon. Adon P. Brown, senator from this district and chairman of the committee on agriculture of that body. Both are interesting speakers and will have messages worth the hearing.

The definite program has not been perfected but there will be various athletic events, including a ball game and a tug of war, and there will be plenty of amusement while spending the day about this beautiful body of water, which is so accessible by state roads from all directions and by the Cooperstown branch of the P. & H.

There will be a basket picnic, but provision will be made to have sandwiches, ice cream, lemonade and such things on sale for the accommodation of those present.

It is hoped that the people will understand that the affair is not limited in the least to those residing on or in the immediate vicinity of the lake, but that the residents of Oneonta city and of all this section will understand that they are cordially invited and urged to attend. Mingling with others there will result in a mutual better understanding each of the other with resultant good to all.

FASHION PARK CLOTHIERS

Our first season's business was a huge success considering what we were up against—a new store with all the competition we had. We surpassed our anticipations. We, like all merchants, are selfish to do more business. That's our aim, but in order to do that we must have dependable merchandise, service and styles that go to make a business a success. We must creep before we can walk, that's sure, but we are creeping mighty fast these days and from indications will soon be doing a "Marathon." We are highly pleased with the cooperation which our new patrons have done for us by way of individual advertising and the amount of business done with them. We are now showing Fall Coats, Clothing, Hats, etc. We would be pleased to show you at any time, as our policy of service makes it easy for you in this shop.

The Mother of a Family that recently moved here from Cleveland was anxious to find the best store for Boys' Clothes in Oneonta.

She mentioned her desire to her neighbor on the left and got back the reply, "Carr's."

Next day, as women will, while getting acquainted with the lady on the other side of the house, she again put the query and was surprised to receive the same name in answer.

In giving us the story, she jokingly remarked that when both sides of a neighborhood say so—it must be so.

In this case it is so. We sell the best boys' clothing in the city—and it's no secret.

MAY ASK FOR COMMITTEE.

To Care for Property of Mrs. Catherine Powell, Mentally Incompetent. Mrs. Catherine Powell of Fonda avenue remains in the care of the city police department in the detention ward at the Municipal building and at a late hour no decision had been reached as to the next step following the refusal of the attendants from the Binghamton State hospital to assume the responsibility to convey her to that institution, to which she had been committed. She is considered to be strong enough to stand the trip and during the day yesterday was more quiet and self possessed.

Two nephews, Thomas E. Kumber of Bensseler and John Kumber of Atlanta, Georgia, arrived in the city yesterday and were in consultation with Attorney Dennis J. McKenny and Surrogate Huntington. They desire to see her properly cared for and manifested no opposition to her being taken to Binghamton, where it would seem they are best qualified to care for her. The trouble appears to be securing some one to move her to Binghamton who has authority to do so. It would appear that the attendants were unnecessarily alarmed because of her condition following the force necessary to change her clothing. Mrs. Powell's financial matters also will require prompt attention. She has the title to three single houses and a double house near the corner of Chestnut street and Fonda avenue, with a sizable equity in them. It is not unlikely that an application for a committee to care for her property will be made.

HELD FAST IN ELEVATOR.

D. & H. Employee Escapes Serious Injury in Accident at Hotel Oneonta.

The elevator in the Oneonta hotel, which is chiefly used by the guests in reaching their rooms, gured in an accident yesterday about noon. Employees of the D. & H. company were using it to carry a large desk to the office on the fifth floor and had it partly loaded into the elevator when someone accidentally tripped the lever and turned on the power.

The cage rose with such speed that it completely smashed the desk and knocked a large amount of plaster off the ceiling over the entrance before it could be stopped. Only one man was in the cage at the time and he barely escaped without serious injury, although he received a bad bruise on the leg. He was pinned fast by the broken desk and wall but was able to turn off the power but could not bring the cage down to the floor again. His fellow workmen, however, did all they could to rescue him from his uncomfortable position and after working nearly half an hour they succeeded in extricating him from his predicament. The debris was soon cleared away and the elevator was running as usual in a short time. It is understood that the man's injuries were only slight and did not require the attention of a physician.

Any Time Is Sandwich Time

Serve Sandwiches—

The housewife who masters the art of the sandwich has the key to good health and good appetite for her family. For the children's lunch-box, sandwiches. For the unexpected guest, the Sunday night spread, the after-theatre bite—again sandwiches! For nourishment, enjoyment and convenience, at any time and all times, sandwiches!

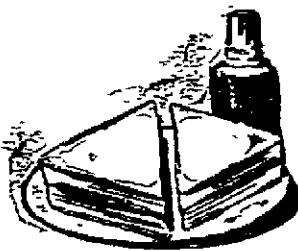

Here is sandwich-wisdom for the woman who wants a short-cut to perfect sandwiches:

1. Use very sharp knife, cutting thin, even slices.
2. Match slices, to make neat sandwiches.
3. For hearty sandwiches leave crusts on and butter to the edge.
4. It is more economical to heat butter to cream and spread Bread before cutting slices from loaf.
5. Cookie-cutters may be used for cutting round or fancy shapes. These should be spread after they are shaped.
6. Avoid bulky fillings in making dainty smooth sandwiches.
7. Sandwiches made several hours before serving time may be kept moist by wrapping in napkin wrung dry out of hot water. Sandwiches for picnics and luncheons to be carried should be neatly wrapped in paraffin paper.

Watch for our delicious recipes. Here's the first:

YUM YUM SANDWICHES

Make filling of one cream cheese, or an equal quantity of cottage cheese; two cups of minced ham and one small bunch of watercress and cream them in ham. If desired, add mayonnaise or French dressing to this filling. Spread between thin unbuttered slices of white, rye, or whole wheat Bread.

The more particular you are about your sandwich Bread, the better you will like

4,000 WAR MEN STUDY FARMING

Disabled Ex-service Men Placed in Agricultural Training in Various Institutions.

1,500 READY FOR COURSE

Many of the Men Are Illiterate and Must Be Given a Course in Elementary Work to Fit Them for the Farm Course.

Washington.—More than 4,000 disabled ex-service men have been directly placed in agricultural training and in addition there are probably 500 engaged in pre-vocational work preparatory to a course in agricultural training. Perhaps 1,500 more have been approved for the course.

Special placement has been suggested and is being sought for tuberculous men in hospitals and sanatoria.

The men approved for agricultural training may be classed into three general groups:

(a) Men who went into the war from college or high school, and, returning, have entered the agricultural colleges.

(b) Men with an eighth grade preparation who are admitted into sub-college two-year courses, Smith-Hughes or other schools of agriculture.

(c) Men of elementary grade, ranging from illiterate to the seventh or eighth grade, who of necessity must have pre-vocational instruction in order that they may receive scientific training intelligently and benefit to the greatest degree.

The first and second groups have given the federal board and the institutions to which they have been recommended very little trouble, as they enter the classes at the beginning of the school year or a term, and if not they frequently can be brought up to class work by coaching.

Third Class Troublesome.
The third group has given the federal farm board and all the institutions great trouble. Insurmountable difficulties seem to have arisen. In varying numbers they form the problem at every state agricultural college and school, and they constitute from 25 to as high as 50 per cent of the men approved for agricultural training.

This large percentage is due to the fact that these men for the most part are from isolated country districts where the opportunities have not been so great for early education.

Farmer parents have been unwilling to allow the boys more than a very ordinary education, for fear of losing them from the farm. Many have had no opportunity. Such are usually older men, 15 or 20 years past country school age. Many of the men are therefore practically illiterate, and to this number must be added the foreign illiterates; that is, foreigners who are illiterate from the English standpoint.

These difficulties constitute a real problem to the federal board and the institutions to which these men are sent. State institutions are not always prepared to do the elementary work necessary to advance the men to a knowledge of English and mathematics where they can receive and be benefited by the agricultural training.

However, without exception, the state institutions are convinced it is their patriotic duty to assist the federal board in making preparation to extend the necessary pre-vocational training, and have changed wonderfully in favor of training disabled men in spite of their educational handicaps. As students the institutions are beginning to appreciate them.

Forms a "Guidance School."

Dr. Walter J. Quick, training officer, worked out an elementary school, which he termed a "guidance school," where such men were collected and instructed in the elementary common branches and in elementary agriculture. The school has been made prerequisite to certain courses that Dr. Quick has designed as agricultural unit courses. They are divided into units of one month each, cover one year continuously from month to month and may be entered any month.

A man may take one or several unit courses, one as a major and others as minors related to the major, while at the same time be continuing in the common branches of the guidance school.

Nearly all the state institutions will allow the men credits for the work done in the unit agricultural courses, which now include a two-year course, as well as the one year.

These plans of the guidance school and agricultural unit courses were adopted to definite form and immediately for the benefit of a large number of disabled men.

Steps Court for Farmer.
Anderson, Ind.—The Madison county circuit court has a judge who appreciates that prohibition should come before litigation if there is to be plenty of honey for buckwheat cakes next winter. He proved it when he ordered a recess in a jury trial so that James M. Fowler, one of the jurors, could go back to the farm. Fowler got a telephone call from his wife that his two boys were being married and he hurried home. The boys were married before the case was resumed.

The Weavers of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE GREAT ORGAN OF THE MORMONS.

MUSIC and song long have played a prominent part in the expression of religion. The Latter-Day Saints are no exception to the rule. President Brigham Young believed it impossible to preach the gospel without good music.

In the early sixties plans were laid for the building of a suitable organ for their great tabernacle in Salt Lake City. The forests of the state were searched for the most satisfactory woods. Proper tools had to be devised and made. Glue had to be obtained. There were no railroads in Utah in those days. The problem was not an easy one. It developed that the best wood grew three hundred miles or more south of the city. It was hauled the entire distance, over rough roads and through the wilderness, by ox teams. Glue was made by boiling strips of cow hide over fire-pots. About one hundred men were employed. Some of the immense pipes of the great instrument were 62 feet long. But music was what they wanted and have it they did. The organ is said to be the sweetest-sounding and the largest save one, in the world. The original organ has been rebuilt and enlarged until it now has seven divisions, the main organ being 60 feet wide, 26 feet deep and 35 feet high, having over 7,000 pipes. The mechanism is electrically driven, nearly two thousand magnets being employed in the control of the vast tonal resources of the instrument.

It hasn't a rival in America. It's music is beyond description. You must hear it for yourself.

Electricity to Locate Metal.

The idea of using current transmitted through the earth as a means of locating metal ores is familiar, the belief being that the greater conductivity of these metaliferous regions can be clearly indicated, and the area mapped out, says the Scientific American. The location of oil deposits, which according to the Electrical Review is now being investigated electrically, presents a converse problem. In this case the insulating properties of the oil diminish the current, and oil-bearing regions are detected accordingly. In view of the great depth to which it is often necessary to bore for oil—that only, exists simultaneously with an almost oil-free area above—the method would seem to have limitations, but it has doubtless possibilities in dealing with surface oil areas.

TROOPS WEAR RINGS IN EARS

Senegalese Soldiers, Used by French in Constantinople, Oddly Decorated.

Constantinople.—Black troops, many of them Senegalese, have been used by the French in their occupation of this city. The Senegalese wear bright green uniforms and red fezzes. Their faces are decorated with scars across their cheeks and they usually wear large rings in the ears.

A member of the Turkish foreign office who was educated at a European university, recently approached a group of Senegalese soldiers near the sublime porte and engaged them in conversation, addressing them in French.

"Just why did you come over here?" he was asked.

"We came to bring civilization to the Turks," the leader of the group retorted haughtily.

In some sections of New England three Socony gasoline are required every week. But whatever the amount or

As a result of half a century of refining

WHEN AIRPLANE MOTOR BALKS

Overhauling of Engine Very Interesting Process.

GREATEST OF CARE IS TAKEN

Friendly Rivalry Between Different Departments in Trying to Get Something on the Other Side to Promote Efficiency—Parts Are Carefully Inspected and Tested in Each Section Before Motor Gets Final O. K.

When an airplane motor stops something always happens—if the motor is in a plane flying at any altitude. Many a witty story has been told by pilots and ground men in reply to the question: "What happens if the motor stops?"

To follow a motor through the numerous branches of the aviation repair depot at Montgomery, Ala., and attempt to grasp what is done to it in an actual overhaul is a very interesting process.

The overhaul of an airplane motor is described as follows, in a statement authorized by Maj. Gen. Charles T. Mencher, director of the air service, himself an expert mechanic:

Overhauling a Motor.

"Upon its arrival on the field the motor is checked and is immediately given a work order to guide it on its way, and make possible a careful record of its repair and cost. It is first taken to the dismantling room, carefully taken to pieces and transferred to the wash rack and washed with kerosene and gasoline. All carbon is removed and the pistons are carefully polished to remove all roughness, that carbon might not adhere so readily. From the washrack it is transferred to the inspection room, where it is given a most thorough inspection. Parts which are worn or damaged to such an extent that they cannot be replaced are immediately salvaged. Parts that are repairable are transferred, where the necessary repairs are made, and returned again to the inspector. A triplicate list of all parts repaired and condemned is made, one following the motor, one going to the engineer officer, and one kept on record in the inspection room. After the motor is passed by the inspectors, the stock-chamber checks up by the inspection report the parts which have been condemned, and draws from stock new parts to take their places. He also draws a complete set of gaskets for every motor, and tries to deliver the motor to the motor assembly department as nearly complete as possible.

"The motor now becomes the property of the motor assembly department. It has gone safely through the inspectors and all parts are supposed to be in perfect condition, but the mechanic has a perfect right to reject from his motor any part which he finds faulty. There is friendly rivalry between the two departments, the mechanic, as a rule, loves to 'hang something' on the inspection department. Thus a double inspection is developed. In this department the bearings are reamed and scraped, all bearings tested by dial indicator tests for clearance, valves ground and tested for leaks. Cylinder blocks which have been drawn from stock and valves which have passed the factory inspector's test, after assembly are often found leaky and do not come up to A. R. D. test. This test consists of filling the intake port hole with gasoline, and from inside the cylinder around the seat of the valve forcing a 60-pound air pressure. A valve which is, after testing by gasoline seepage, to all appearances O. K., will frequently fail with this air test. After the different parts are assembled and the motor is ready for timing, the ignition parts are drawn from that department and installed.

Ready for Test.

"The motor is now ready for test, and again becomes the property of the inspection and test department. This is where they try to hang the crepe on the motor repair. If the motor is rejected a report is made by the test block section, giving reason for rejection and suggesting the remedy if possible. A report is made by the chief of motor repair of what was found wrong, and the correction made.

"The reports go to the engineer officer, who then does the heavy growling. After a second and successful block test the motor is tagged 'O. K.', the tag showing R. P. M., running time, oil pressure and the kind of propeller used. Here again it becomes the property of the engine repair. If the engine is to be placed at once in a plane it passes to the final assembly, but if its destination is unknown the intake and exhaust ports are closed, cylinders filled with oil, the entire motor sprayed with a protective coating of cosmoline applied rapidly and efficiently with an ingenious air gun, and is then ready for shipment, or for storage, leaving the aviation repair depot in either case a thoroughly rebuilt, inspected, tested and, in the case of a rotary, properly crissed motor."

BARS "MARRIAGE INSURANCE"

Oklahoma Attorney General Opposes Charter for New Policy System.

Oklahoma City, Okla. — Announcement was made here that Attorney General Prince Freeling has advised against the granting of a charter to a savings investment company that proposed to issue insurance to mature at the time of marriage instead of death.

According to the proposed plan of the company, policies would be issued on the persons of children between 1 and 15 years of age, on application of their parents, payments to be made by the company only in case of the marriage of the person insured. "It is not impossible to conceive of a case wherein the entire resources of a person might be tied up in this company and never become available until marriage," Freeling says. "Marriage then might not be a free and voluntary act, based on the proper motives, but simply a convenience to make available the resources of the policy holder."

ESSEX

San Francisco to New York 4 Days 14 Hours 43 Minutes 3347 Miles

Lowers Transcontinental Record by 12 Hours 48 Min. Another Essex Going From New York to San Francisco Broke the Record For That Direction by 22 Hours 13 Min., Completing the Trip In 4 Days 19 Hours 17 Minutes

So Essex Holds the Transcontinental Record Both Ways

Two Essex touring cars, carrying U. S. Mail, each one making the entire trip between San Francisco and New York, have set the time records for their respective directions across the American continent.

And thus comes to Essex another distinction for reliability and endurance.

Except for one airplane record, these two Essex cars have crossed the continent in less time than was ever recorded by any travelling machine. The fastest time possible between San Francisco and New York by train is slightly less than the time taken by the light weight economical Essex. But in the case of the railroad train, many different locomotives are used, each pulling the train only a few hundred miles.

From Cheyenne to Omaha the route taken by the Essex was 43 miles longer than the 550 mile route of the famous Overland Limited yet the Essex time was but one hour longer than the express train time.

The World's Most Coveted Records

From the days of the Prairie Schooner, the Pony Express and the completion of the railroads men have sought to establish new transcontinental time records between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

It has called for the highest development of skill and courage. And it has, as in the case of the motor car, blazed the way to mechanical reliability.

The purpose of this Essex test was to prove its reliability. In the period of 114 hours was crowded more strains, more calls for endurance and mechanical strength than the average owner demands in a life time.

Every requirement of motor car performance was met by these two cars. And the fact that they so consistently met their tasks proves Essex uniformity.

The speeds at which they traveled were not so unusual, for another Essex stock car had on a speedway track gone 3037 miles in 50 hours. But in the transcontinental runs, some 350 cities and towns had to be crossed. Crowded traffic imposed its obstacles to consistent going. Mountain ranges in the East and West with grades such as the average driver never encounters, called for the utmost of hill climbing ability.

Few will ever motor all the way across America and therefore cannot know the extreme varieties of conditions encountered. But let each reader apply to his consideration of what Essex has done, every experience he has ever met in his own driving. It will give some appreciation of Essex reliability.

Light Weight Now Establishes Reliability

How gradual have men come to a realization that a light weight car can also offer reliance and performance.

Essex has led the way for that was its purpose from the very first. Economy is of growing importance. Men want to save in fuel and in first costs. But they want no sacrifice in performance and they demand unquestioned reliability.

Essex offered itself to the public without claim. Now more than 40,000 owners know and praise its worth.

Owner cars that had been driven upwards of 25,000 miles were used in the recent nationwide Essex week to establish reliability, economy, speed and hill climbing records.

To Essex owners the winning of the transcontinental records is not a surprise. But those who do not know Essex performance and reliability must regard that these two trips across the continent are as important in marking mechanical advancement as any similar event in the history of the motor car.

New Idea in Washers.

One of the latest ideas in the line of a labor saver for the housewife, is the Easy Electric Vacuum washer, which is being displayed in the show window of the Stevens Hardware company. Hand vacuum washers have been selling for some time, but this new machine is of very recent invention, having been tried out in some places to the satisfaction of all. The machine is displayed in the window connected up and working, the barrel part is made of glass, so that all that goes on can be observed by the user. It only requires that the clothes and suds be placed in the washer and a button pressed for the washing to begin. A sander may be attached to the barrel making it very easy for the whole washing to be done and doing away with much of the back-breaking work which it formerly required.

THE WANDERERS ORGANIZE.

Local Athletic Club Formed to Participate in All Sports.

At a recent meeting of the members and supporters of the Wanderers baseball and basketball team, it was decided to organize an association to be known as the Wanderers Athletic club. By law, naming and membership committees were appointed and Thurston A. Crounse was elected temporary chairman pending the election of officers as soon as housing is secured. The Wanderers team possesses an excellent record gained in various basketball games during the past winter. The 15 men comprising the basketball team are charter members and further membership will depend upon character and ability in various lines of athletics. Dues will be arranged in proportion to the expenses incurred by the club.

The association intends to be represented in every amateur athletic contest in this vicinity. The club has already entered the Towlitt League, may possibly enter the meet to be held by the Binghamton Industrial league on August 28, is arranging a tennis tournament, and will participate in the various contests to be held at the Field day of the Goodyear Lake association on August 23.

On Thursday afternoon at 4:30, the Wanderers ball team will play at Unadilla. An attempt will be made to organize a football team this fall. It is the idea of the organization that it can be called upon to arrange entertainments along the lines of athletics, singing or theatricals, as soon as organization is completed.

GUS HILL'S MINSTRELS PLEASE.

Lovers of Minstrelsy Pronounce Performance "The Best Ever."

Lovers of old time minstrelsy found much to commend and enjoyed an evening such as has not been their lot in many years at the performance given at the Oneonta theatre last evening by Gus Hill's Minstrels, the group being crowded with as delighted a throng as has gathered there in long while.

George Wilson, the veteran, who bears his 70 and more years quite gracefully, was the bright particular star that captivated the old timers as well as the younger generation, his every appearance being the signal for prolonged laughter. It will create many a smile so long as his masterful stump speech is recalled. It alone was worth the time and money, although there were many other good things on the choice program.

The settings were most praiseworthy, the entire production being highly creditable to Charles A. Williams, by whom it was conceived, arranged and produced. The act by the saxophone sextette, featuring Walter Cate, justly heralded as the world's greatest saxophone soloist, and Billy Markwith, the comedian of the group, also deserves special mention. The return of the company will be anticipated.
